Stay at Home Tea

It is time to celebrate the joy you create when you support Camp Easter Seal.

You are cordially invited to participate in one of our favourite summer traditions – the Stay at Home Tea! This is our 36th annual event and it takes place Thursday, July 4th at 3 p.m. On that day, people around the province will enjoy a traditional cup of tea in their own home and in so doing, support Camp Easter Seal.

It's hard to believe that this year is Camp Easter Seal's 65th anniversary! There is so much reason to celebrate when you think about the many successes that happen every summer. I would like to invite you to put a kettle on and reflect on how your support has helped camp become a magical place for so many years. As you sip your tea in celebration with us, hundreds of Saskatchewan campers from across the province are anticipating their upcoming summer adventures.

Camp Easter Seal would not be what it is today without so many caring and compassionate supporters. I first visited the camp many years ago to work as a pediatric medical resident. That experience was enough to make me a life-time supporter.

During my time as a practicing pediatrician and board member of SaskAbilities, I have been inspired by the joy that comes from companionship, learning, and realizing your full potential. It's hard to describe how rewarding it is to be a part of an experience that really does change lives. I am fortunate to have the opportunity to return every year and the feeling I have when I see the activity around me never changes. I am not alone in feeling this way about Camp Easter Seal. So many campers and counsellors return year after year because it is truly a magical place.

Elizabeth Guest is one person who comes to mind. She has spent many years at Camp Easter Seal, first as a camper and then as a counsellor. She so eloquently said, "The true magic and amazing aspects of Camp aren't always easy to put into words. It's better felt with the heart and the many smiles, laughter and sometimes tears that are shared. I have had the pleasure to not only be a camper but also a staff member, donor and Member Leader of SaskAbilities." Elizabeth looks forward to spending more time at Camp sharing her love of crafts and the outdoors with many campers who attend every year.

Children, youth and adults experiencing disability quickly learn there are no barriers at Camp Easter Seal. Over the years, I have seen campers forget their worries and daily challenges and just have fun! In the many years that I visited Camp, I have seen first hand the impact that it has on everyone. Often campers return home with a big smile and greater self-confidence than ever before. Making the impossible possible – that's what Camp does every summer.

Camp Easter Seal has become so successful because of the generosity of donors like you! Help us maintain this proud part of Saskatchewan's legacy by joining us on July 4th for our annual Stay at Home Tea. Brew a soothing cup of tea and savour the difference you make in a child's life while you donate to Camp Easter Seal. As my special way of saying thank you for your continued support, I have enclosed an individual bag of tea and a recipe that has been in my home for 50 years from Mary Ward, the mother of my oldest friend from high school.

Sincerely,

Dr. Ulla Nielsen
